

FREE INSIDE THE FIELD'S SPORTING
YEAR WALLPLANNER

YOUR COMPLETE GUIDE TO THE BEST SPORTING AND COUNTRY EVENTS

THE FIELD[®]

APRIL 2015 £4.40

Change your shooting style

How to make difficult birds seem easy

Garden airguns

10 of the best for pest control

Everybody conger!

Battling with eels as big as ponies (almost)

THE RATPACK ON TOUR

Working sealyhams nail the Cotswold rodents

www.thefield.co.uk

04
9 770615 064205

Juliette Trivier and Lucie Boedts Kuehnle

Bill Dent and Paul Graham

Rebecca Sims

Andrew Sims

Catherine Boutremans

Maxime de Thomaz de Bossierre and Jonathan Young

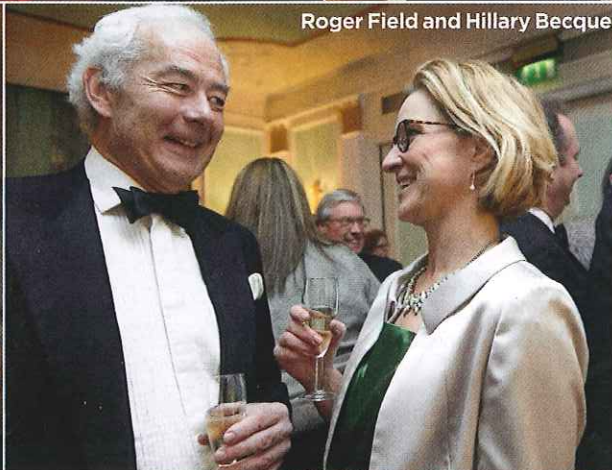

Aurora Eastwood

Alex and Harriette Novell

Tom Festing

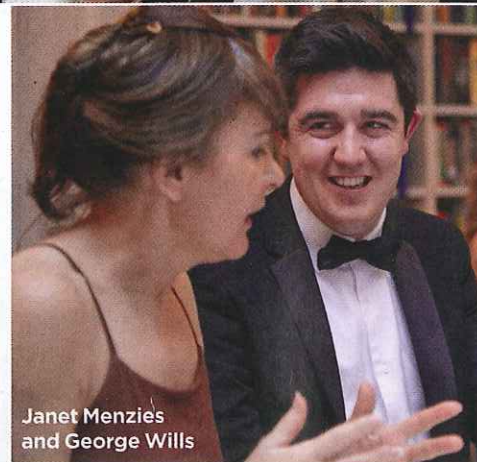

Roger Field and Hillary Becque

Macnab dinner 2015

THE fifth year of The Field's Macnab Challenge, and the first sponsored by Glenfarclas Whisky, Hine Cognac and Champagne Pol Roger, was the most fruitful to date. Seventeen Macnabbers claimed success, with 16 sticking to the classic format and the first Corinthian Macnab (a morning following hounds, a brace of partridge and a trout on the fly) taken by Andrew Sims. The Macnab Dinner was held at the Rag Club, a suitable background for tales of sporting heroics. The jovial crowd, fuelled by Champagne Pol

Roger, swapped stories over salmon and venison in keeping with the Scottish exploits. Gannochy supplied its regular contingent of enthusiasts, an elegant clutch of Belgians flew in dressed to thrill and a father-and-son team from Sweden joined the fray. Macnab cuff-links (bangles for the two lady Macnabbers) were presented by Jonathan Young, whose fishy grace was well received. Afterwards the European contingent continued the party at the Connaught and the old guard saw off a bottle of Glenfarclas at the club.

Janet Menzies and George Wills